Howdy Honey

Seats are now selling for the musical comedy "Howdy Honey", which is to be presented by the Rockville Dramatic Club in the Opera House at Rockville on Saturday, May 20.

A great deal has been printed in praise of the talent of which this club is composed. All their productions have scored emphatic success. "Pinafore", "The Moon King" and "Moovie Land" have all been beautifully staged and costumed and reached a professional standard of excellence.

"Howdy Honey" is the most elaborare production this company of players has yet attempted. The cast contains twenty principal parts, some of which are in the hands of Washington's very best talent, and many opportunities are afforded for special chorus singing and speaking parts.

A noteworthy feature is the orchestra, which is under the leadership of Mr. Sol Minster, former leader of the Belasco Theatre orchestra.

"Howdy Honey" is produced under the stage direction of Mrs. Berry E. Clark and the musical direction of Miss Mary Almony. There will be only one performance, so an early purchase of seats is advisable.
